old Fordell students – which we love to see) on the day. I would like to start with saying a big thank you to Mars Petcare for their generous donation of the ribbons for Pet Day and AFFCO for their generous donation of the ribbons for Ag Day. I know our students really treasure these and keep and add to them over the years here at Fordell School. I would also like to mention a few local businesses that also kindly donated items for prizes – Farmlands Wanganui, Hunting and Fishing Wanganui, and Wanganui Vets. We thank you for supporting Fordell School. I know I thanked Cath Cranstone on the day but again thank you Cath – you are amazing at being our main organiser of this event year after year. Well done families on the outstanding job for the House Baking Challenge – just WOW! I know the judges had a difficult time judging. We all enjoy this day with the highlights being the excitement and proud moments of our students, especially for those students that may not normally stand out but in this arena they really shine! That is one of the things I love about being part of Fordell School is that the culture is about creating opportunities for all our students to shine in their areas of strength and passion. Please check out the folder of 2020 Ag Day photos on the Fordell School Facebook page.

Welcome Miss Gabrielle Gloyn to Fordell School 2021

Kia ora, my name is Gabrielle Gloyn. I was born and raised in the mighty Manawatu on our family dairy farm. I'm an adventurous person who loves getting outside and exploring new environments, especially with my partner and dog. Some other activities that I enjoy are jazz dancing, boot camp, netball, touch rugby, doing people's makeup and showing cows.

I have been teaching for over 5 years. I'm very excited to be starting my next chapter at Fordell School. I can't wait to meet everyone and start establishing those positive connections.

MEAT AT YOUR PLACE OR MINE

ROOM 3 UPDATE: We have been so busy - here is an overview.

Room 3 have been busy scientists as we launch right into our Junior Hub Inquiry topic for the term:
LET IT GROW!

We have been outside doing fieldwork and inside observing samples, doing observational drawings and recording information on charts, just like real scientists. We have been germinating seeds and growing seedlings and now we have started to germinate beans in plastic bags with cotton wool so we can watch what happens when it's usually hidden in the soil. We have learned about how seeds travel and even floated a coconut out at sea (well, in a tub of water).

We have also been busy with art, maths, writing, Discovery Time and developing our hockey skills in P.E. Here are some photos for you to enjoy.

MEAT AT YOUR PLACE OR MINE

'Enter at your own risk!' Read the bright red sign. Poppy listened to the words in her head over and over, as her eyes focused on the path entrance. 'Right I'm going in,' Poppy said quietly. As she picked up her feet she broke into a jog, and then a sprint. Once she got just past the glowing light, smoke drifted around her feet. She closed her eyes and started dreaming. All of her body started shaking. She felt a tingle and opened her eyes. 'Whats going on!' poppy screamed at the top of her lungs. Soon everything around, her started to shrink, her brain, not clear enough to think. A glass jar formed around her. Poppy closed her eyes and tried to think, it was no use. The shaking stopped and poppy opened her eyes. She was tiny and the glass jar was small. The garden was now around her and the glass jar. She couldn't break out. But how would she get out? She was trapped, how would anyone ever find her? Annabelle Spetch

Enter at your own risk the sign said, I thought and thought and thought in till some gas came and made me forget what I was going to say. I don't know why but I immediately ran into the garden thoughtlessly wondering what would happen. I was soon in a magical place with animals trees and even a waterfall .I had a swim and became very hungry I saw a couple berry's so went and had one but it tasted funny .I soon woke up in reality and was shocked to find I was in a small skinny see through jar it was quite small but I was smaller. began to hear footsteps they grew louder and louder until i see a giant figure all dressed in black they were wearing a white mask but soon took it off and revealed that they were my best friend poppy coming to save me she grabbed a berry bigger than me a and chopped it .She was very relieved to see that I was growing but soon I was squashed on the glass I actually broke the glass eventually I was just glad to be back in the big world.

I was scared but I soon fell back into a dream and woke up to poppy going wake up wake up please wake up. But soon I found myself back tucked up in my bed with my pillow welcoming me home and I began to doze back off to sleep once again wondering what dreams I will have next. Annabel Dwyer

The Not So Smart Girl, the Whale and Elephant, and the Jar

"Enter at your own risk" The sign said. Lucy stared at the sign (did I mention she wasn't the smartest of all people). She stared at the sign some more before deciding to walk in. But just as she was about to walk in she stopped to make an oath "I promise I will use my brain if I see weird stuff," She said pointing to her chest (I would've told her that her brain is actually in her head not her chest but I'm the narrator I'm not in the story) Anyway right after she made her oath she ran into the garden. She walked around and then met eye to eye with two giant cats but, like I said she isn't the smartest of people. "Ooh look it's a tiny elephant and a whale!" She said going all moony eyed over them. The so called "elephant" grabbed her and ran off with her "does little elephant want to go for a walkey? Oooh where's whale?" The cat dropped her in a glass jar and the "Whale" put the lid on. Lucy stared at the side of the jar, shrugged and sat down. And she hasn't been smart enough to even try to get out. Jessica Kuene
